Students requirements

Students from different backgrounds are welcome, but it is recommended to have interest and some core courses done in Economics and/or Social Sciences.

No Spanish knowledge required, program taught completely in English
In all UANDES international programs, Chilean students participate actively. This means, students from abroad will share with Chilean peers during all classes and activities. We believe this is a good situation for both ends, as international students are enriched with Chilean culture through our students and, on the other hand, UANDES students can practice their English and have an international experience on campus.
